Student Union Project Slow As Costs Exceed Expectation

By Carolyn Bridge
El Don News Editor

When bids for expansion of the Santa Ana College student facilities were opened December 22, dismal results were recorded. Since that time, however, constructive, definite adjustments have been made which will enable SAC students of the future to enjoy the dreams of students today.

Original plans showed an estimated total outlay of $30,000. This figure included the student union and patio.

After receiving the bids at the Board of Education meeting it was decided that a figure of about $37,000 would be needed for the building of the student union minus the patio.

The Board of Education was willing to boost SAC's loan to that figure, but no final action could be taken until it was passed by the executive council.

At the council meeting Tuesday, the board decided to authorize the building of the union up to $40,000. This money, which will be borrowed from the Board of Education, will be repaid on a $3,000 a year basis until the loan is met.

Having received the approval of the council, bids will be re-opened at the January Board of Education meeting.

Present plans are to follow through with the building of the union without the patio. Further plans for the adjoining patio area will be completed at a later date.

Barring no further delays, plans are still to make the completion date some time in August.

ED RICE DEPICTS SHOW-OFF as Jeanne Tripp looks on. Rice and Miss Tripp are two of the cast members who will present the Show-Off next weekend.

Peck, Rice Share Leads Present 'The Show-Off'

Betty Peck and Ed Rice have won the lead roles in the next College Player's production "The Show-OFF."

George Kelly, author of the play, resides in Orange County. The play, a combination of character, humor, and human nature, is a three act comedy about middle class Philadelphia in the post World War I era.

Others in the cast are Jeanne Tripp as Amy, Elizabeth Beall as Clara, Jon Diegel as Frank Hyland, Dennis Morgan as Mr. Fisher, Bill Peters as Joe, Peter Greilich as Mr. Gill, and Bill Sims as Mr. Rogers.

Bob Ballew is the stage manager for the production which is scheduled for January 14, 15 and 16 in Phillip's Hall. Larry Keith is the technical director.
Robert Blaustone, SAC drama instructor, is directing the production.

Students receive a free ticket to the opening night performance in exchange for ticket number 21 of their ASB ticket. Student admission to the play on Friday or Saturday night will cost 50 cents. General admission is $1.00. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

SAC Accreditation Extended Five Years

Western College Association has granted Santa Ana College the maximum five-year extension of accreditation with a citation as "an excellent junior college performing an important function in Santa Ana and Orange County," it was announced by Dr. John E. Johnson, SAC President.

Reporting to the college trustees at the meeting of the Santa Ana Board of Education, Dr. Johnson quoted the six-member accreditation committee as being "most impressed" with what was found on the SAC campus during the inspection visit last March. It marked the second maximum five-year accreditation for SAC since Western College Association instituted the accrediting procedure.

Santa Ana College students have always enjoyed full accreditation transfer to other colleges and universities since founding of SAC in 1915.

The committee complimented SAC for its aims and purposes and commented "the college has gained in stature and community acceptance since the last visit of an accreditation team (1954)."

SAC Presents Artist Series

Professional artists from Orange County will be featured in the second program in the Santa Ana College Artists' Series Tuesday, January 19 at 8 p.m. in Phillips Hall.

Miss Susan Brenner, former SAC student and mezzo-soprano on the concert stage is producing the program which includes singing, instrumental music and dancing.

Brahms' "Liebeslieder" will be musically enacted by Miss Brenner, Lyric Tenor Marvin Fennema of Anaheim, Bass Baritone William Fackiner of Anaheim, and Contralto Helena Mawson of Santa Ana.

Also appearing as a soloist on the program is Conrad Schultz, Santa Ana tenor.

Instrumentalists will be Robert Sheffer of Santa Ana, guitar and folk songs; Dominic Laruccia of Orange, flute; George Richter of Anaheim, drums; and Edna Ahorn of Santa Ana, Helen Fackiner and Betty Stockwell of Anaheim, piano accompanists.

Diane Herring of Corona del Mar will be the featured toe dancer.

Reservations may be made at Phillips Hall box office at $1 per ticket.

Complex System Put in For Lawns

Completion of an automatic sprinkling system which will more than pay for itself by saving manhours in future watering was installed coincidentally with the landscaping of three central acres around the new buildings of the college.

The time-clock sprinklers not only do a more thorough job of watering and save on consumption but will pay for the system within three years. Similar sprinklers were installed on some of the athletic fields.

LIVE THE PART is what playwright George Kelly, wearing overcoat, seems to be telling Ed Rice, who will play the leading role in SAC's version of "The Show-off." Other members of the cast join director Robert Blaustone, on Kelly's left, in discussing highlights of the Broadway musical. Play runs Jan. 14-16.

Playwright Kelly Visits College 'Show-Off' Cast

Santa Ana College Players are still relating the wonderful experience they shared during Christmas vacation when George Kelly, famed playwright and composer of "The Show-Off," visited the students in Phillips Hall.

But an even more unusual circumstance is expressed by Robert Blaustone, SAC drama instructor.

It seldom happens that a drama director on the professional stage or in college teaching has the opportunity to know the playwright of the play to be produced.

Blaustone, who will direct the production in Phillips Hall Jan. 14-16, used the comedy as the subject of his master's thesis at the University of Texas six years ago.

Playwright Kelly, now a resident of Laguna Beach, spent the evening with the College Players discussing the various characters of his famous Broadway play, told how he directed it himself, and many of the finer points which would assist the students in their rehearsals.

"The Show-Off," first produced in 1924, was the second long play on Broadway and was instrumental in establishing Kelly among the more prominent American dramatists. In his teens, he was an actor in vaudeville troups.

Kelly's development of the theme of the obnoxious braggart, Aubrey Piper, is the basis of "The Show-Off." The play depicts the middle class Philadelphia in the post World-War I era and the trials of an average family trying to cope with the pompous egotist possessing every trait that is irritating to society.

The role of Aubrey Piper was won by Ed Rice of Garden Grove. During Kelly's visit this vacation, Rice was able to pinpoint certain character traits which must be inflicted during the production.

Dean of Admissions Announces Fall Enrollment Figures

Do you realize that 2130 students occupy SAC classrooms daily? This figure was compiled over vacation by Mr. George Herron, Dean of Admissions.

Continued gains in enrollment are certain for the spring semester beginning Feburary 4. Registration is now underway.

Of the 2130 presently attending SAC classes, 233 are under 21 years of age and 1010 are over 21.

Full time students number 887 with 642 under 21 and 245 over 21.

The total number of day students is 966; extended day, 931; and persons attending both day and extended day classes, 230.

New students planning to attend SAC for the entire spring semester must take entrance exams on Jan. 5, 11, or 26.

The last day for adding a course for credit or for changing sections is Thursday, Feb. 11.

Some of the courses which are being offered for the spring semester include anthropology, art, astronomy, mathematics, merchandising, microbiology, Spanish, speech, trades and zoology.

Twelve Rules-Food For Thought

With juvenile delinquency currently such a problem in our society the police department of Houston, Texas has issued a list of "Twelve Rules for Raising Delinquent Children" which we quote here as "food for thought."

"1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything h wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the worl owes him a living.

2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. Thi will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him t pick up 'cuter' phrases that will blow off the top of you head later.

3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until h is 21 and then let him 'decide for himself.'

4. Avoid use of the word 'wrong.' It may develop guilt complex. This will condition him to believe later when he is arrested for stealing a car, that society i against him and he is being persecuted.

5. Pick up everything he leaves lying around — books shoes, and clothes. Do everything for him so that he wi be experienced in throwing all responsibilty on others.

6. Let him read any printed matter he can get hi hands on. Be careful that the silver-ware and drinkin glasses are sterilized, but let his mind feast on garbage

7. Quarrel frequently in the presence of your children In this way they will not be too shocked when the home i broken up later.

8. Give a child all the spending money he wants Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things a tough as you had them?

9. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink, and com fort. See that every sensual desire is gratified. Denial may lead to harmful frustration.

10. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, police men. They are all prejudiced against your child.

11. When he gets into real trouble, apologize fo yourself by saying, 'I never could do anything for him.'

12. Prepare for a life of grief. You will be likely t have it."

Why Join Service Clubs?

To be or not to be . . . that is the question raised by the female college students when queried if they would like to become a member of a service club.

Would they be considered the social snob of the campus clientele? Or would they be commended for giving their time to worthy organization?

These questions must be answered individually and without prejudice. Many times service clubs are confused with sororities in the larger institutions. Naturally, the "social prominence" impression forms a stigma on the minds of many women.

But Santa Ana College service clubs do not denote popularity cliches. The purpose of each group is to help the college and civic groups in every way possible and at the same time encourage friendly relationships among the women.

Proudness should accompany acceptance in service clubs for the woman who joins is serving others, not herself.

Pert 'Native Daughter' Sees Changes In Santa Ana Land, Entertainment

It isn't unusual to find a native Californian walking through the corridors of Santa Ana College, but finding a native Santa Anan is another story.

A little bundle of energy extending a friendly smile to everyone describes the "native daughter," pert Becky Rojas.

Only a mere five feet tall, Becky makes up for her lack of stature through her big hopes, accomplishments, and beaming personality.

"Santa Ana has certainly changed since I was small," Becky related. "I even remember the big circus which would come to town each year and the many farms which are now replaced by tract homes," said Becky.

In her teen years, Becky finds enjoyment in trips to Hollywood, picnics, parties, and bowling.

But the sport she least wants to remember is horseback riding.

"I fell off a horse when I was smaller and have been afraid to ride ever since," Becky smiled.

"When I was in Santa Ana High last year I was determined to be a teacher and even joined the Future Faculty organization. But no more studying for me. I'd rather go to college for only two years, it's much easier that way," Becky said.

On the dating side of Becky's life, she has already set her ideas for the ideal husband.

"First of all he must be older than me, be comfortable financially, have a well-groomed appearance, and be honest," Becky said with a twinkle in her eye.

Becky Rojas
. . . misses circus

But in the meantime, Becky resorts to preparing term papers for "that orientation class" and reminiscing about the early days of her hometown.

Council Comments

By Carolyn Bridge

The first student council meeting of the new year was short and compact.

Committee reports consisted of Ardith Munro telling about the co-sponsored dance with Orange Coast College. The dance will be held after the SAC-OCC basketball game on the Coast campus.

Anna Lou Brewer reported on the outcome of the elections held just prior to Christmas vacation.

There was no old business.

When new business was on the floor, Miss Munro furthered the discussion of the SAC-OCC dance by making a formal motion to the effect that arrangements be made for the event to be held on January 29. The motion was seconded and passed.

Jarrell Mauck brought up the subject of a spring semester retreat and Joan Tammaro made the final motion which stated that the council members would hold a retreat in the early part of the spring semester. The motion was amended by inserting the dates of February 26 through 28. Both the amendment and main motion were carried.

Andy Kormos moved that a special fund be set up for the Freshman class. The motion was seconded and passed.

Before adjourning the meeting, Mr. Trawick brought up the subject of the student union expansion. He pointed out to the board that the bids had exceeded expectation and that more money would have to be allotted for the improvements.

Alan Leonard made a motion to the effect that the board would authorize building up to $40,000. This money would be borrowed from the Board of Education and would be repaid on a $3,000 a year basis until the loan was met. The motion was passed.

The board adjourned early in order to have their pictures taken for the year book.

Rep. Utt Presents Lincoln's Works

A nine-volume series of the collected works of Abraham Lincoln has been presented to the Nealley Library at Santa Ana College by Rep. James B. Utt of Santa Ana, it was announced by Dr. John E. Johnson, SAC President.

The special works were prepared by the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission, under the direction of Roy P. Basler. Librarian Ruth Bradley said they will be added to the extensive historical reference department of the library, available for use by students and the community.

Congressman Utt is an alumnus of SAC and last June was one of the three former students receiving the Alumni Achievement Award at graduation.

Hawaiian Dinner For Las Hidalgas

Surrounded by an authentic Hawaiian atmosphere, Las Hidalgas members will hold their formal initiation Jan. 12 at the Kono Hut Restaurant in Garden Grove.

New members will enjoy an island dinner accompanied by a special banquet music group.

After dinner, election of officers will be held. Outgoing president is Sue Badger, sophomore.

Chairman of the initiation activities is Donna Bush.

FREEDOM SELLER — Miss Linda Maxwell gives Congressman James B. Utt, center, SAC alumnus, a replica copy of the Bill of Rights. Miss Maxwell and Don Bissonnette, right, will begin work on the Bill of Rights Scrapbook in the near future.

Freedoms Foundation Scrapbook Planned

Don Bissonnette, AMS president and chairman of the SAC observance of Bill of Rights Week, with the help of Linda Maxwell, Bill of Rights secretary, is assembling a scrapbook of achievement to be forwarded to the Freedoms Foundation.

The scrapbook will enable the judges to choose the student who will receive the cash scholarship of $500 whose program is judged the best from the standpoint of how many students it has reached, the best understanding of individual responsibilities for the maintainance of these freedoms and originality.

Jarrell Mauck, SAC special activities commissioner, last year received $125 for his participation in the special week and SAC ranked second to Los Angeles City College. A $500 scholarship was awarded to Don Ward, '58 ASB president, when SAC won first place among all schools that year.

In observing Bill of Rights Week, SAC held an assembly, students spoke to classes about the Bill of Rights both here and in other schools around town, circulated replicas of the document, held sidewalk interviews, employed sound trucks, displayed posters and wrote editorials and essays. Bissonnette even arranged to have a Bill of Rights Handicap at Los Alamitos race track with Susan Shinkel White, SAC homecoming queen, crowning the winning horse.

Shakespearian Group Presents Don Assembly

Members of the New Vic Company, Hollywood Shakespearian group, will spend a half-day on the SAC campus on January 14 to hold drama workshops in Phillips Hall.

"The company was formed by director-actor Richard Gray a year and a half ago in an attempt to establish a team of craftsmen who would experiment and grow together while bringing regular classical theatre to Los Angeles. The name "New Vic" was chosen not to suggest comparison with the Old Vic, but merely as a standard at which to aim."

After two hours of personal demonstrations and dramatization from 9 to 11 a.m. the cast will present sketches of Shakespearian plays for the college assembly.

The assembly will consist of scenes from Acts one, three, four and five of Henry V and scenes from acts one and five of Othello. Two scenes from Richard III will also be presented.

Students who are interested in drama, but who are not enrolled in drama classes are welcome to visit the morning workshops.

SAC Students, Five Advisors Plan Courses

The deadline for second semester counseling for presently enrolled students is January 20. Appointments should be made early to insure a counseling period.

"The reason for counseling is simply to help students to help themselves," stated Thomas Trawick, Dean of Students at Santa Ana College.

"The counselors do not tell you that you have to take a certain course, they only point out to you the advantages, and disadvantages in what you are interested in, for in order to complete the courses required by your major, your plan of study must be carefully organized," continued Trawick.

Problems which constantly arise during the counseling periods include making out new schedules, filling out schedule cards properly, changing a major and fitting in the new courses without much loss of time. Another important problem is straightening out the failing or probation students. Counselors are also ready to help with personal problems whenever possible.

The counseling system at SAC made it's debut with the beginning of school in 1915. Starting with one or two counselors, the college now has a faculty of five counselors, Paul Andres, Frank Black, Edmund Hallahan, Clifford Rothrock, and Isabelle Rellstab. Also counseling are Thomas Trawick, Dean of Students, and Agness Todd Miller, Assistant Dean of Students.

"We are always searching for new ways to improve our counseling plan," said Trawick. "At present, all of the counselors are also the orientation instructors and co-ordinate through this office," he continued.

The counselors keep records of all their students. These records include aptitude tests, high school records, test files, and academic records. These files aid them in helping you to decide on what courses you would best succeed in.

AWS, Council Members Elected

Kathy Kennedy has been elected to the office of AWS vice president. Jeanne Lentz was elected as treasurer with Barbara Berman being elected as AWS freshman representative. Maeva Hutter has been appointed as the other representative.

The proposed amendment to the AWS constitution was passed. The presidents of the women's clubs must now attend the AWS meetings.

Elected as freshman representatives to the student council were Mike O'Sullivan, Larry Wentzel, and Nancy Leffler. Cliff Hutter, Judy Morse and Sonja Smith were elected as the sophomore representatives.

Don Five Hosts Chaffey

Spotlight on Sports

By Jerry Wilcox
El Don Sports Editor

Don't be misled by Santa Ana College basketball coach Bob Boyd's apparent unconcern over the possibility of Orange County's hottest cage prospect coming to the Don campus next year.

We are speaking of Santa Ana High School center L. J. (Lotta Jump??) Wheeler, a 6-8 negro Jump??) Wheeler, a 6-8 transfer from Newport News, Virginia.

Yep, actually Boyd is already drooling over the giant Saint senior who is expected to lead his team right down to the wire in the race for the Sunset League title.

Record Breaker

Averaging close to 20 points per game, Saint pilot Bob Wilhelm's latest "find" is still far from consistant. We first saw Wheeler in the second game of the Huntington Beach Invitational Tournament in the middle of December. He had just broken the single game scoring record by one point on the night before with 40 and was threatening to make a shambles of the tournament mork of 99.

Against Newport on the second night of the tourney, he scored exactly 0.

Now, some reports had it that the Sailors were double and triple teaming poor L. J., but this corner did not see it this way. Sure, they put two men on him at the start of the game and picked him up when it was convenient to guard two men at once, still they didn't seem to press the double teaming.

What they did was this.

They put a little guy on him. He was about six feet but looked like the lower half of a Mutt and Jeff team along side of Wheeler.

Four Fouls

In all fairness to L. J. it might be said that the Newport lad was somewhat dirty and was deliberately trying to get the Saint star angry. He succeeded. Wheeler had four fouls at the half, even though he sat out most of the second quarter.

And the referees, who were obviously missing a good game, couldn't manage to see the elbows that L. J. caught, but always managed to catch him when he threw one back at his tormentor.

Santa Ana won the game however, and went on to capture the tourney crown, thus establishing themselves as co-favorites in the Sunset League along with Anaheim.

Although Newport held him scoreless, Wheeler has still displayed his scoring ability. Perhaps what is overlooked most is his defensive ability, for this guy bats away shots like Bill Russell.

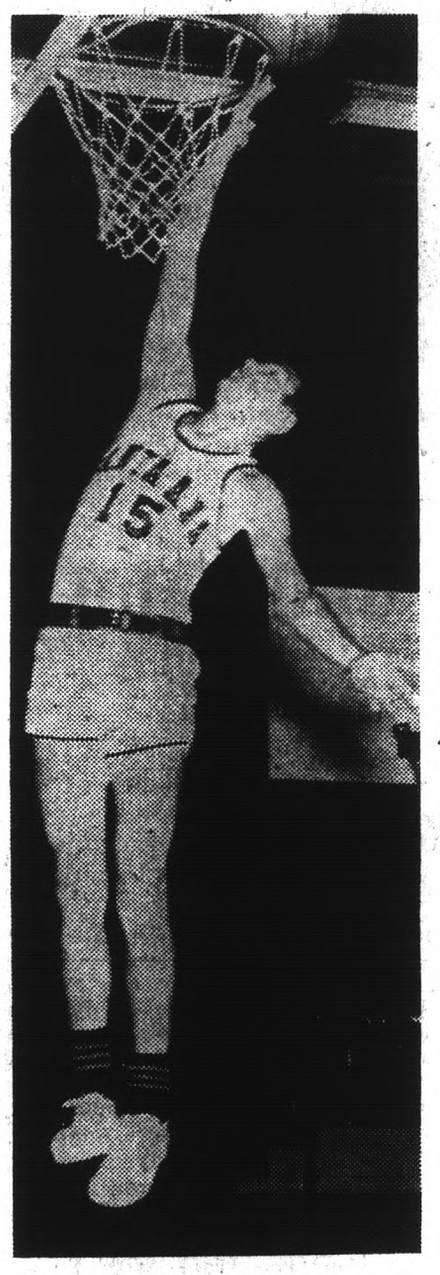

Anyway, if he comes to Santa Ana College next year, Boyd will take him, temper and all.

Fullerton Favored as EC Cage Action Begins

A full slate of four games launch the heated Eastern Conference basketball race tonight with Santa Ana Dons entertaining Chaffey in an 8 o'clock encounter at Bill Cook Gym.

In other loop inaugurals, Fullerton's Hornets, favored to cop the conference flag by most local experts, open up at home against Mt. San Antonio College, Citrus travels to San Bernardino and Riverside treks to Orange Coast.

Santa Ana coach Bob Boyd, who led the Dons to the loop title last year with a 12-2 record, has finally come up with a starting unit after experimenting with several combinations throughout the preseason tilts and the various tournaments.

PHIL LIVESEY
. . . starter tonight

Vets Start

Starting tonight for the Dons, now 6-8 on the season, will be three lettermen and two other sophomore veterans.

Jon Brettman, SAC's leading scorer with a 12 point average, and Phil Livesey will open up at the forward spots. Center Gary Dutro has won the pivot position from 6-9 freshman Garnet Linzey.

Two transfers, Don Livingston, who played briefly with Santa Ana last year after coming from USC, and Don McConnell from Fullerton JC form a smooth working backcourt combination.

Ready to back up the first five are forwards Lonnie Moore and Milt Horton, Linzey at center, and Don Danenbring and Buddy Ross at the guards. Ross was praised by Boyd in the last game for his fine defensive fefort.

Chaffey pilot Barney Newlee will call on Larry Baca (6-3) and Ron Lenahan (6-3), a pair of lettermen, as forwards. Big Kent Campbell (6-4) has apparently won the center berth from veteran Jim Ostrander.

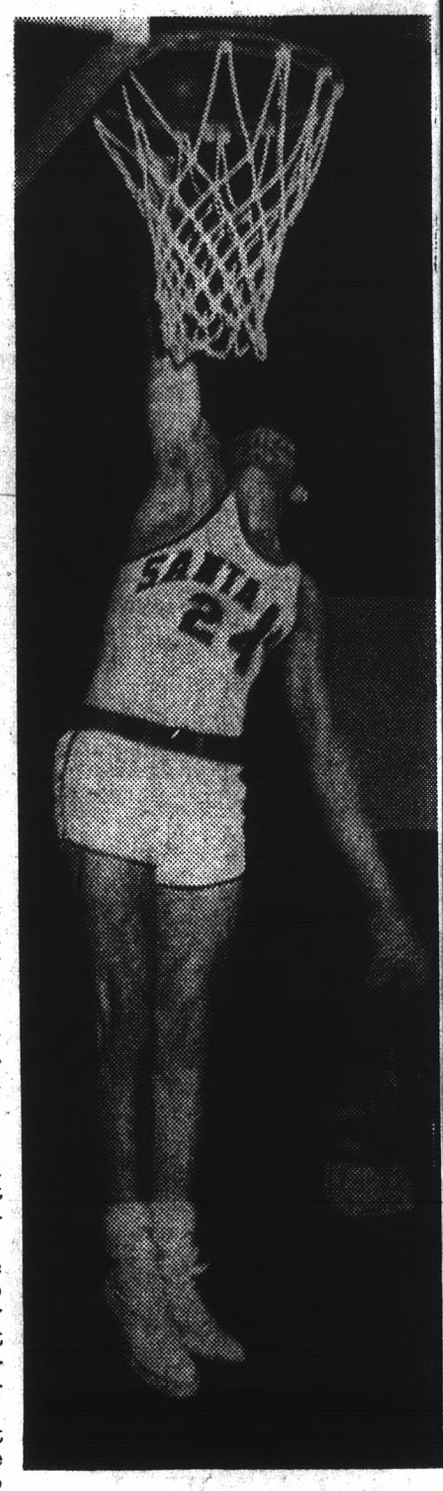

Two more lettermen, Bob Langager (5-8) and Ron Mayuiers (6-0) will get the nod at the guard positions.

Finish Fifth

The Panthers, who finished in the conference's fifth spot last season with a 5-9 slate, have posted a 7-9 mark this year.

Chaffey will be out for revenge tonight for the Dons took them to the cleaners twice last year. They topped them, 77-51, in the first meeting, and whipped them, 91-64, in the final game of the season.

After tonight the Dons won't get much chance for rest as the UCLA Freshman team moves into town tomorrow night. Next week Santa Ana plays at Riverside on Tuesday and hosts Citrus Friday.

JON BRETTMAN
. . . top scorer

Don Five Captures Consolation Crown

Improving steadily every time it steps on the court, Santa Ana College basketball team is fresh from a pair of impressive victories that gave the Dons the Consolation Championship of the Hancock Tournament and brightened up an otherwise dismal northern road trip.

Coach Bob Boyd and his chargers trounced Hartnell, 97-56, and whipped Santa Barbara, 90-57, after losing in the first round to Coalinga, 75-62.

In other games over the vacation the Dons split even in the Chaffey Invitational Tournament, topping Southern Utah, 79-62, before bowing to San Bernardino, 65-60. They also dropped a pair in the San Francisco Bay area when Oakland City College and San Francisco City College handed them 74-58, and 65-52 defeats just before Christmas.

The Dons now sports a 6-8 season record as they host Chaffey tonight in the Eastern Conference opener.

Wrestlers to Tangle With Orange Coast

Santa Ana College wrestlers meet arch rival Orange Coast College in their fourth match of the season next Thursday, Jan. 14 on the Pirate campus.

The Dons met Mt. San Antonio College yesterday afternoon but the results were not available at press time.

Coach George Farrier's wrestlers won their opener with Riverside by forfeit and then lost to San Bernardino, 33-5.

Santa Ana, Cabrillo Sign Two Year Pact

Cabrillo College of Watsonville California will furnish the opposition in the Dons' football opener next year on September 24 in the Santa Ana Bowl.

Santa Ana signed the northern California school to a two game home and home series. The second contest will be played in 1961 at Cabrillo.

Long Beach City College is the Dons' only other non-conference foe.

The remaining seven games on the schedule are all Eastern Conference affairs.
